Wellbeing Theme: Emotional

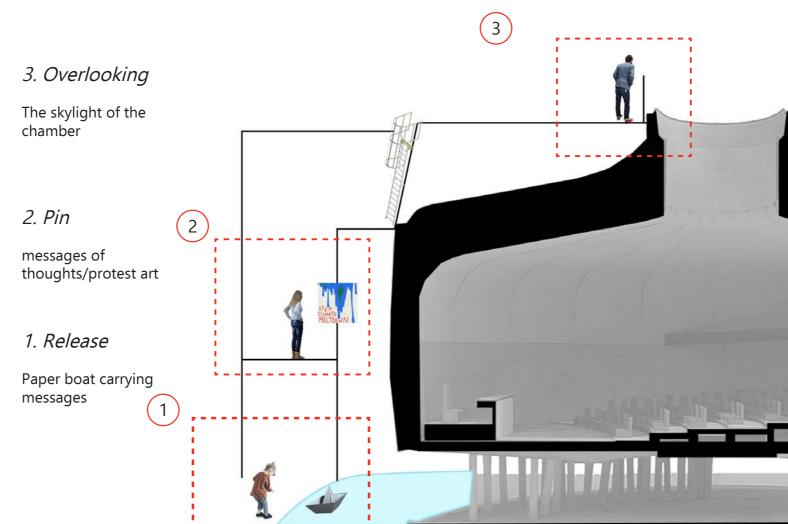

The urban intervention aims to connect the chamber of Newcastle Civic Center to the wider public by encompassing and highlighting public emotions towards the enclosed meeting space. The addition of steps that spiral to the top of the council chamber allow citizens to view the inside and intended to embody the idea of a transparent democracy. By slowly moving to the top on numbers of light steel frame, there is a critical reconstruction of strengthening the confidence and emotions of citizens overlooking the governing body.

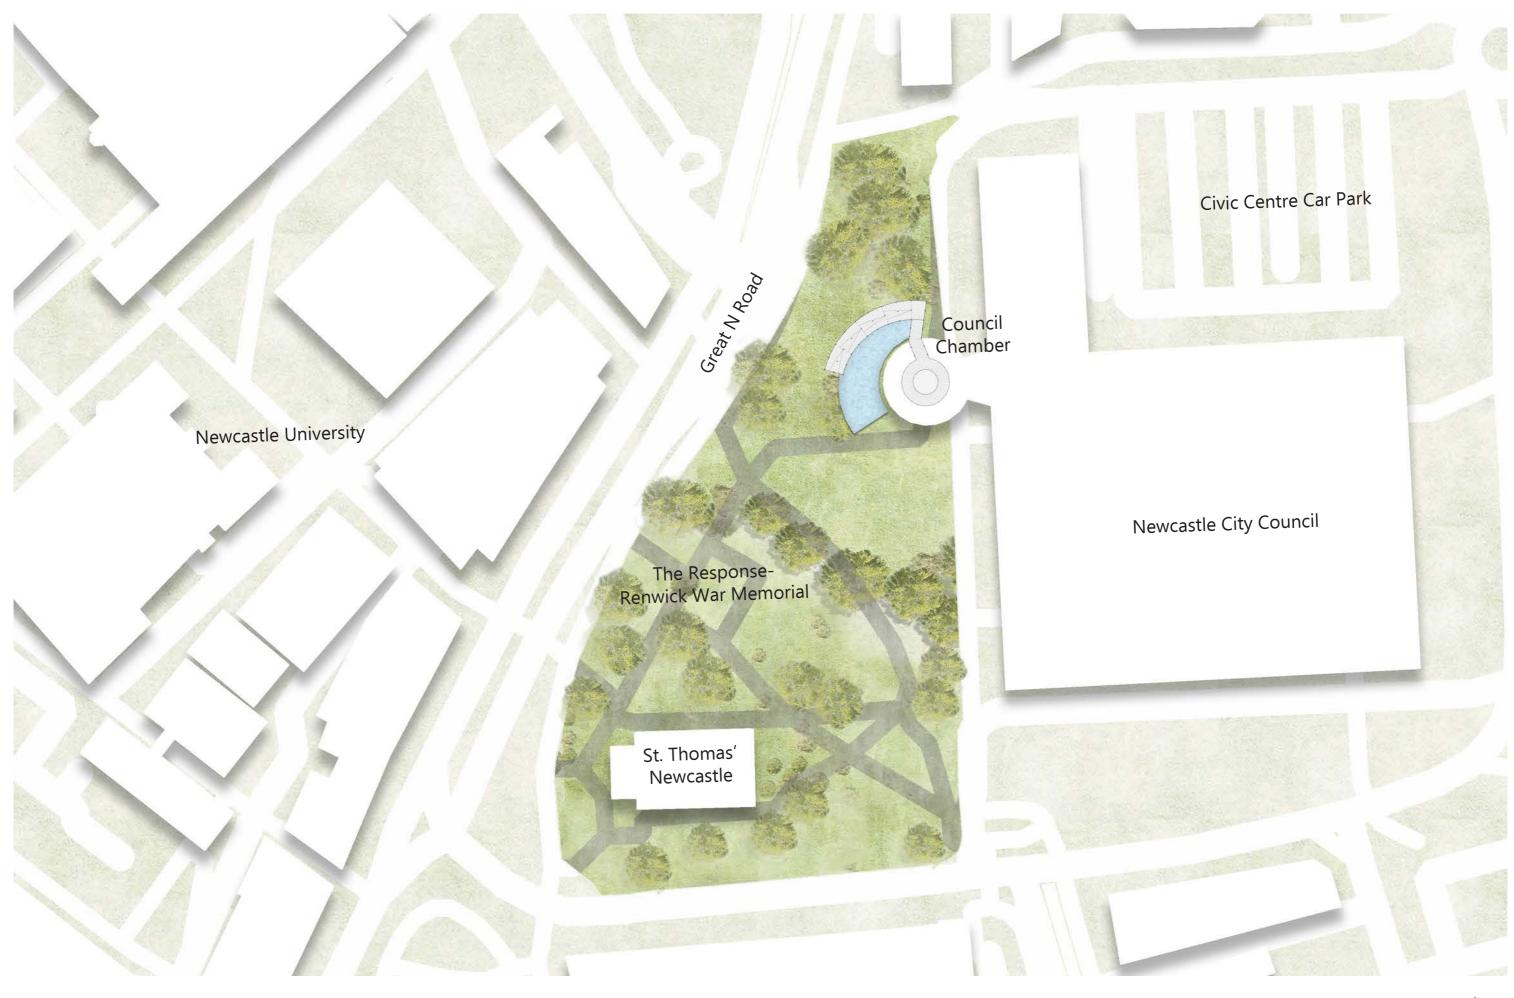

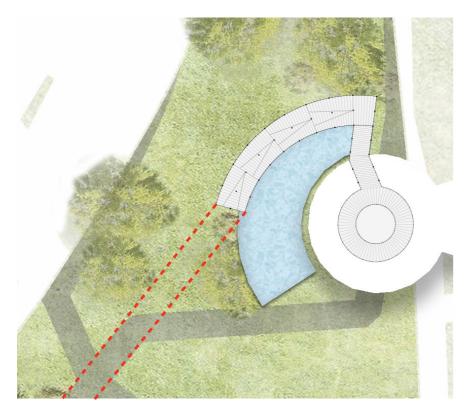

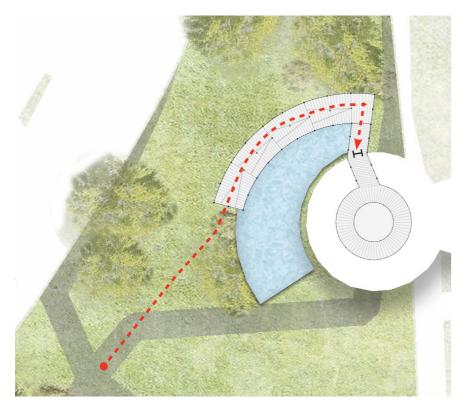

Entrance of the intervention is aligned with the pedestrian pathway in the park

The intervention is accessed through the lawn. People are going upwards with the continuous circular ramp to reach 7m above ground level. A cat ladder is linked from the intervention towards the roof decking. People are allowed to view the interior of the council chamber via the circular opening/sky-links and the careful council chamber via the circular opening/sky-links and the careful council chamber via the circular opening/sky-links and the careful council chamber via the careful council chamber via the circular opening/sky-links and the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the circular opening of the careful council chamber via the careful chamber via the ca light on the roof.
