

English Literature and History, Stage 1, Welcome Week (QV31)

You may hear this week being called induction week or welcome week. In the School of English Literature, Language and Linguistics (SELLL), we prefer Welcome Week, as we are welcoming you to our city, Campus, and community.

The week has been planned to give you:

- Opportunities to form connections with your peers, teachers, and professional service colleagues in the school.
- An understanding of our inclusive culture both within the school and the wider University.
- A network of support that will help guide you through the initial weeks and those beyond.
- A sense of independence and autonomy, for your education but also the lifestyle you want to explore during your journey with us.

Day	Time	Event	Venue	Details
Monday 18 th Sept	09:30-10:15	Welcome!	Kings Hall, Armstrong Building	You will meet the Head of School, Prof. Jo Robinson, and receive some important documents and information for the coming days. Did you know: this room is where we hold our graduation ceremonies every Summer and Winter!
Monday 18 th Sept	10:30-12:00	Personal Tutor Activity	Kings Hall, Armstrong Building	Teaching colleagues will help you find your Personal Tutor and you will then spend some time with your Personal Tutor group.
